Course Unit

1 course unit = 4 ECTS units

The ECTS (European Credit Transfer and Accumulation System) is a framework defined by the European Commission to allow for unified recognition of student academic achievements from different countries.

Course Description

This course is about being a leader, it is a non-traditional course by which we will take the time to understand what does it take to be or become a leader and to do self-reflection and realization of me as a leader. The purpose is to enable each student to think what type of leader he/she want to become, through a mix of theoretical understanding and a learned set of skills and capabilities. As a result, the course has a strong experiential focus, students and learning teams have responsibility to read/watch/discuss and play and to expose themselves to different forms of leadership. In addition, we will have a chance to see the evolution of the management and leadership theory and to understand future trends.

Learning objectives

Upon completion of course the student will be able to:

1. Be able to articulate where you might be in the continuum of management and leadership
2. Gain understanding of major leadership theories and emerging trends and find relevancy to your daily experiences
3. Experience personal skills required for leading in a complex environment.
4. Reflect on values that drive you as a leader

Student assessment

Date	Assignment

- students must be present in every lesson.
- The lecturer reserves the right to have a student removed from a course if the student is absent without reasonable justification

Course assignments

1. Pls attend all sessions, in case you cannot be in class pls an email
2. Summarize one of the course articles – and prepare one slide reflecting on your key insights and relevancy
3. Home assignments (2 assignments – up to ½ page each) – One reflective question (relevant integration of materials should be presented)
4. Authentic self-picture and explanation (one slide indicating your name, photo, and 3 unique leadership qualities of your reflect)
5. Final home exercise to be submitted in 2-3 weeks after completion of class (Maximum length – 2 page)

Grading policy

As of 2008-2009 academic year, the faculty implemented a grading policy of all graduate students, this policy will be reflected in the final course grade. According to the policy, the final average of the class falls between 82-87% Additional information regarding this policy can be found on the Faculty website.

Evaluation of the course by student

Following completion of the course students will participate in a teaching survey in order to evaluate the instructor and the course for the benefit of the student and the university.

Course Site (Moodle)

This course site will be the primary tool used to communicate messages and materials to students. Its is therefore recommended to periodically check the course site in general, periodically and before each session. All reading materials will be available on the course site, no formal summaries will be available on the course site, as the class is experiential.
