

0453-3397 Topics in present day genetics.

This course is obligatory for all students in the Genetics Program. Each week one of the students presents a recently published paper, which we all read. We then discuss it.

This course has no exam and no grades.